How to use the search boxes

The Search Musapedia box in the left menu only searches on the page names. Inserting letters will prompt the names of existing pages that contain these letters to appear. Type in the first letter and add one letter at a time until you see what you are looking for. If it does not show up, it means that the page in question has not been created, or that it has been created under a different name or spelling.

Checking Exact match, will ensure that you land directly on the page.

The search box in the horizontal menu searches in the contents of the pages. Unless otherwise specified, it searches in all the pages on the site. Click on the arrow to the right of Entire Site to view the list of sections. Select Knowledge if you want to limit your search to Musapedia.
